for the weekend*

Safety Starts at the Dock

Recent events in our local boating community are a powerful reminder that safety is just as important at the dock as it is on the open water. Whether you're preparing to depart or returning from a day on the lake, every step on and around your boat deserves care and attention.

Wear Non-Slip Footwear

Docks and boat decks can become slick from water, algae, or morning dew.

Keep the Area Clear

Stow lines, hoses, and gear to prevent tripping hazards.

Use Caution When Boarding or Exiting

Always use handholds and maintain balance—especially when stepping between dock and boat.

Move Slowly and Intentionally

Rushing can lead to avoidable accidents.

Don't Go It Alone

If possible, have someone nearby during docking, departure, or routine maintenance.

As a community of boaters, we share a responsibility to protect ourselves and each other. Let's remain mindful, move with intention, and continue to make safety a priority
